

Protect your business. Be a hero.

Want to protect your work, your people, your reputation, and ultimately, your future livelihood? Course you do. Use Eco Logic for your business insurance and be the hero of your organisation.

From everyday risks to unexpected claims

Because your business is unique, your insurance needs to be too. Typically, business insurance is made up of public liability, employer's liability, professional indemnity, and buildings and contents insurance. But depending on what your business does, you can also add protection for terrorism, defamation, equipment, (people chucking rotten tomatoes at your windows) and heaps of other stuff.

You're never too small for protection

In fact, small and micro business can be most at risk as many can't afford to face hefty compensation or damage claims without the right protection in place. From mistakes (we all make them) to trips, slips, floods, and accidents. Whether you're selling cakes on the side, stationary online or trying to establish a building firm over time – you defo need business insurance to protect you from the get-go. So go get it (like, right now).

Too busy to work out the ins and outs?

Course you are – you’ve got a business to run. You won’t have time to figure out your public liabilities from your professional indemnities. So we use our energy to help you get properly protected, pronto.

We can provide cover online or over the phone to:

- Small and medium size business
- Micro businesses (0-9 employees)
- Sole traders
- Self-employed people

Bespoke business insurance

You can easily combine different covers and choose from a list of add-ons, so you only pay for what you need. That’s unique insurance for your unique business.

So, what level business insurance do you need?

Hmm, it can be tricky. Like, you only want to pay for the cover your business needs, but you also want to make sure that you’re properly protected should the worst happen.

The higher the level of protection you choose, the more protected you’ll be if you’re faced with a claim for compensation. But choose too low a level of cover, and you’d be personally liable for any shortfall should a large claim be made against you.

So, consider what risks your business is exposed to – do members of the public frequent your premises? Do you give advice that could result in financial loss for a client? Do you have several employees under your care?

There’s more...

Professional indemnity insurance is also available to trades that also offer professional advice, like electrical contractors or heating engineers.

Employer’s liability insurance is there to protect your staff. By law, you need to have cover of at least £5 million.

If you have premises – like a shop or an office – our business contents insurance will protect you up to the level of cover you choose. Remember to take into consideration the value of your stock, shop front and the contents of what’s inside.

Let’s chat

hello@ecologicpartners.co.uk